

repurposing used store displays to bring new life, creativity, and innovation into the classroom

We accept donations from stores around the nation. Window displays, point of sale cardboard displays, shelf talkers, etc. can have new life in school prototype labs or as classroom decor. Donations support student creativity, hands-on and project based learning, local environment, and bring professional design elements to the classroom. Your store can save on disposal costs and keep reusable materials out of landfills!

Window displays represent incredible creativity and design. We believe that schools should be filled with good design and inspiration for the learners they house. Window display materials get new life as classroom and school decor, in a prototype lab, or for special events.

Point of sale displays (shelf talkers, floor stand displays, etc.) are wonderful materials for students to cut apart and rebuild into something new. Point of sale displays often end up in school prototype labs where students can re-imagine materials through the design thinking process.

Extra posters, single-sided fliers, and other branding/identity materials are wonderful for large format student work. Students often use the back of these posters and fliers to create their own large format work.

Tax Deductible

Your donation is tax-deductible with our 501c3 status!

Ways to donate:

1. Call or email for pickup 303.779.0358 admin@anastasisacademy.us
2. Drop your materials off 6495 S Colorado Blvd. Centennial, CO 80121
We accept drop-offs on the first & third Friday of the month 9am-2pm

repurposing used store displays to bring new life, creativity, and innovation into the classroom

We accept donations from stores around the nation. Window displays, point of sale cardboard displays, shelf talkers, etc. can have new life in school prototype labs or as classroom decor. Donations support student creativity, hands-on and project based learning, local environment, and bring professional design elements to the classroom. Your store can save on disposal costs and keep reusable materials out of landfills!

Window displays represent incredible creativity and design. We believe that schools should be filled with good design and inspiration for the learners they house. Window display materials get new life as classroom and school decor, in a prototype lab, or for special events.

Point of sale displays (shelf talkers, floor stand displays, etc.) are wonderful materials for students to cut apart and rebuild into something new. Point of sale displays often end up in school prototype labs where students can re-imagine materials through the design thinking process.

Extra posters, single-sided fliers, and other branding/identity materials are wonderful for large format student work. Students often use the back of these posters and fliers to create their own large format work.

Tax Deductible

Your donation is tax-deductible with our 501c3 status!

Ways to donate:

1. Call or email for pickup 303.779.0358 admin@anastasisacademy.us
2. Drop your materials off 6495 S Colorado Blvd. Centennial, CO 80121
We accept drop-offs on the first & third Friday of the month 9am-2pm